Quick & Easy Data Entry

Save time – Data entry screens are clear, concise and uncluttered, enabling you to input your information for a new incorporation in about 15 minutes.

Fast Documents & Powerful Reporting

Increase efficiency – Quickly create the required government forms, bylaws, resolutions, minutes, ledgers, registers, share certificates and correspondence.

Customize to your requirements – Design and generate reports to your own specifications. For example, create a list of all active corporations and sort them according to fiscal year end. Then you simply instruct Fast Company to prepare the annual resolutions for that entire group of corporations.

Efficient Electronic Filing

Connect online – Electronically file your Ontario Articles of Incorporation and Form 1 with licensed Ministry service providers.

Streamlined Registrations & Filings

Stay organized – Keep track of a multitude of corporate items and promptly generate reports with expiry dates across an entire corporate practice.

In Depth Corporate History

Gain insight – The software maintains your complete corporate history, enabling you to view entries before and after changes to information as at a particular date. Entries can be viewed in chronological order, and documents produced as of the date of an earlier change.

Principals Database & Parent/Subsidiary Tree

Keep tabs on relationships – You can track individuals in the Principals Database and promptly generate a list of corporations in which a particular person is (or has ever been) involved. By using Fast Company's corporate Family Tree, you can graphically illustrate relationships between parent and subsidiary companies and shareholding details.

Flexible View of Corporate Data

Organize by date – View information the way you want it, by fiscal year end, share transaction dates, active corporations and more. Simply click to generate a Form 1 reflecting changes as at any particular date. Fast Company automatically applies its knowledge of corporate changes and generates professional and accurate documents.
